GROSS MARGIN AND OPERATING MARGIN

- The acceleration of growth at SPS, which has a high WS ratio, has caused the WS ratio to rise as a percentage of the consolidated total.
This has a negative impact on the consolidated gross margin.
- On the other hand, while the gross profit margin is low on the WS channel because the selling price is the WS price, the operating profit margin is on par with that of DTC due to lower fixed costs.

Analysis of Changes in Gross Profit Margin by Factor

Key Factors Affecting Gross Margin

Product Mix	Composition of products sold (price range, and profitability etc.)
Channel Mix	(See the table on the right)
Foreign Exchange Rates on Purchases	Exchange rates applicable to the purchase of products from factories
Other	Freight, inventory optimization, etc.

Operating Margin	22.3%	23.9%

SG&A EXPENSES

- Compared with the forecast announced in February, the SG&A to sales ratio improved by 3.3ppt, driven by revenue growth and the timing adjustment of marketing and advertising expenses.
- SG&A expenses increased by +15.5 billion yen, on a currency-neutral basis +23.0 billion yen YoY. SG&A to sales ratio decreased by 1.8ppt to 34.8%.
- The cost increase is mainly due to higher personnel expenses driven by expanded human resource investment including profit-sharing bonuses, increased advertising expenses to maintain strong business momentum in Europe and strengthen sales at Running Specialty stores in North America, and costs related to sales.

CONSOLIDATED NET SALES (MONTHLY AND QUARTERLY)^{*1}

- July sales in FY26 came in at 100.3 billion yen, +22.8% YoY (+14.4% on a currency-neutral basis).
- All categories showed sales growth. Particularly, sales in SPS increased +45.1% (+34.2% on a currency-neutral basis) and OT +34.9% (+29.0% on a currency-neutral basis), representing significant year-on-year growth.
- By region, ASICS Japan, North America and Europe recorded significant sales growth.

Monthly inbound sales in ASICS Japan reached a record high of 5.3 billion yen (OT 4.7billion yen), well above from JPY 3.5 billion (including JPY 3.1 billion from OT) in the same month last year.

^{*1} As wholesale (WS) sales account for an increasing share of consolidated net sales, monthly results are becoming more affected by the timing of revenue recognition for wholesale accounts. As a result, year-on-year growth rates do not always accurately reflect ASICS' business momentum. Given this, and in response to comments from investors, monthly preliminary net sales disclosure will be discontinued after this release.

^{*2} As the net sales in July in FY26 are based on preliminary data, they may differ from the actual data.
